City Starts Procedure

The City of Whitesburg has taken a first step toward extending its city boundaries from the mouth of Sandlick to Pine Mountain Junction.

The proposed annexation would be expected to more or less double the area and population of Whitesburg.

So far, the annexation move is more of an idea than a reality. None of the exact details have been worked out.

The development came last Thursday, when the council voted unanimously to hire an engineer to survey the area and draw up a plan for annexation. City council members appeared agreed the annexation should extend from ridge line to ridge line, taking in all the houses in the neighborhood of the new Sandlick Presbyterian Church to the junction. City officials are hopeful that there will be a minimum of opposition to the move. They say that while residents of the area would have to pay city taxes once they were annexed, the pickup, and other services pro-

WILL WE LOSE OUR LIBRARY?

Residents of Letcher County often take pride in believing that they are at least a step ahead of their Eastern Kentucky neighbors in many of the things that go to make a community a worthwhile place in which to live. The belief often is founded on fact. In per capita income and in the over-all level of education, Letcher county holds an edge over its neighbors.

Another thing we have had to take pride in has been our will fall as soon as this force is he can then get stocks at his of the U. S. The outcome of county library and its bookmobile program. Although it is inadequate in many respects, the library nevertheless has been Law of Gravitation will be Electric, General Motors, and likewise depend upon the supable to perform a very real service to the young people of our found to apply to the actions other good stocks sold for only port of our present allies. county. Four thousand times last month, someone looking for knowledge or entertainment borrowed a book from the library and its bookmobiles.

Former Perry Judge Now the library program is about to fall on its face. It has been financed through a small appropriation from the fiscal Sued By State court, a grant from the state and a grant from the county school board.

The present fiscal court has not seen its way clear to granting funds for continued operation of the program. The amount of county money involved is small, only 12 hundred dollars. But, without that appropriation of county tax dollars, there will be no state funds. The state won't send its tax dollars to support our local library unless we are willing to furnish tax dollars of our own.

We recognize that dollars are scarce, and that the fiscal court has at least 10 demands for every dollar it has available. But the county has too much to lose in the bookmobile program not to make every attempt to find the needed dollars.

At the very time when the need for a more adequate school system is being demonstrated through Russian scientific triumphs, Letcher county is about to take a tremendous step backward educationally. The closing down of public libraries is scarcely the answer to our great need for improved education.

We suspect that the fiscal court would not have taken funds from the library if it had been convinced there was a public demand and public support for the program. It is up to the I people of the county to demonstrate to the court members that they are wrong. Surely the various civic clubs and PTA's but that it was then caused to throughout the county will not sit idly by while the county loses one of its most valuable assets. Or will they?

A WISE DECISION

We congratulate Letcher Fiscal Court for its decision to give social security protection and benefits to county officers and employes. Cost to the county will be small, but the return in terms of security and peace of mind for those affected will a gulley on the Banks farm and be beyond measure.

The city council of Whitesburg has indicated that it will follow the county's example. We hope they do. We see no reason why clerks and other employees of the two governments Commissioner of Highways should be denied the retirement benefits that long have been standard in private business.

Teachers Hear Talks On Reading Techniques

Miss Cleo Stamper and Myrel Brown demonstrated techniques of teaching reading at an inservice training meeting for county school teachers of the Letcher Area last week.

The meeting was held at Letcher High School. Claude Taylor and O. B. Wilder of the State Department of Education were consultants.

Plans for future improvement of the in-service training program which began this year were made at a meeting Jan. 8 in the office of County School Supt. W. B. Hall. Present at the meeting were Hall, Miss Patsy Ann Fields and Columbus Sexton, school supervisors; and the following full-time principals: John E. Holbrook, Hemphill; Roy T. Reasor and Martha J. Potter, Fleming-Neon; Jack M. Burkich and Leonard T. Morgan, Whitesburg; Sanford Adams, Eolia; W. W. Watts. Kingdom Come, and Jeff B. Mayes, Blackey. The group also evaluated the parts of the training program already completed.

Telephone Talk

CARL STAUSS Your Telephone Manager

WHAT'S MY LINE? Have you ever wondered who keeps the telephone lines around here in working order? A telephone man, to be sure, the installer-repairman. And, when storm damage repairs or maintenance are necessary, cable splicers have to be "johnnies-on-the-spot." In all kinds of weather at any hour of the day or night they're at work-up poles, down manholes, out in the country, right on your street. And just being there isn't enough. They have to know what they are doing; which wires to join and how to join them. It takes know-how and a lot of hard work to keep telephone lines in order and our telephones ready to serve everyone, all the time.

BRRR, IT'S COLD! And did you know, the colder the weather the louder sounds are. In hot weather sounds are weaker, don't carry as far. As this applies to telephone communications, it was a problem that worried telephone people. Then the Bell Laboratories found an answer. It's the thermistor, an electronic device that controls the volume of voices on the telephone. It keeps them from being too loud in cold weather and too low in warm weather. It's so sensitive it can detect a temperature change to one millionth of a degree.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

For an adequate amount of vitamin C in your diet during the winter months include extra servings of foods that are rich in vitamin C. The advice comes from Miss Elizabeth Helton, UK Extension foods specialist, who explains that this vitamin actually helps hold the cells of the body together, like cement between bricks. A lack of it may show up in any place in the bodythe skin, teeth, bones, muscles, blood vessels or blood.

It is important to have a daily supply of this nutrient, as the body can store only very small amounts. It is easily destroyed in cooking, although much of it is preserved in modern process- a lace covered Bible given her

Important sources of vitamin C (also called ascorbic acid) are all citrus fruits, tomatoes, strawberries, pineapple, raw cabbage, broccoli, kale, turnip and mustard greens, Irish and sweet potatoes and green pepper.

Chemical Plants Show Increase

Frankfort - Kentucky's continuing to get a sizeable share of the mushrooming growth of the chemical industry, and prospects are "good" for an acceleration of this trend, a state agency has reported.

The Department of Economic Development said 13 new chemical plants, costing more than 35 million dollars, were planned or began production in Kentucky during 1957. This is more than one-quarter the total outlay invested in chemical producing facilities in the State for the nine-year period, 1947 to 1956, the agency said.

The increase in workers, the agency added, will boost total employment in Kentucky's chemical industry to just under 12,000, almost triple what it was 10 years ago.

The State's employment-ranking in the chemical field in the past decade has jumped from 27th to 21st nationally and from 8th to 6th in the 11-state Southeast, said the department.

Rosedale, formerly Johnson's Inn, is shown on Filson's first map of Kentucky, published in 1784, as being on the main road between Lexington and Limestone (now Maysville). Tradition relates as many as 50 covered wagons stood in the yards here at one time.
